

ELECTRO SCAN TABLET

Invented By Alaina Lewis

The Electro Scan Tablet is a full body scanner. It will scan the front and back of ones body. After the scan is complete it will show what is wrong with the person. It will give a detail description of the actual illness or injury. It will have the persons body and it will have colored marks that indicate the seriousness of the injury or illness. This process will take 20mins. After it's done scanning it will automatically upload to the doctors computers.
